

Award for Leadership in Occupational Therapy

Recipients

2022 Pam Wener

Pam is recognized for her exceptional ability to create and support emerging areas of occupational therapy practice, interprofessional circles, the leadership potential of students and colleagues; and the systems that help them thrive. In her four-decade career at the University of Manitoba, she has made significant contributions to the entry to practice program by generating and teaching content that has shaped curriculum and impacted occupational therapists working in primary care and mental health. Pam is also a dedicated volunteer; in her many roles, she has influenced community development through innovative client-centred clinical programming.
